AGENDA REPORT
BREVARD COUNTY Charter Review Commission

SUBJECT: Redundant Discussion and Votes

Petitioner: Tom Jenkins

Requested Action:
Clarification of Rules and Process

Summary Explanation & Background:

The CRC has previously voted down proposals creating a Comptroller, and abolishing Constitutional Officers. In all due respect to those who have voted for those defeated proposals, I question if these same issues are being submitted repeatedly just by using different wording, but with the same intent and outcomes? And is this in conflict with Robert's Rules of Order whereby only a voter on the prevailing side can bring back an item for re-consideration?

As proponents of efficiency in government and conducting the people's business, at what point does the CRC decline to continue to repeat the same discussions on the same proposals that have been previously defeated by vote of the CRC, and move forward with new business
