(G) Review Fees—No permit issued

When a permit application has been reviewed and approved by all required agencies and the permit has not been issued within 30 (thirty) days of the last review, the review fee must be paid in its entirety for services rendered and will be collected through an approved process for collection.

When a permit application has not been reviewed and approved by an agency due to plan deficiencies and the permit is not issued within 90 days of the application, a review fee equal to one-half of the permit fee as set forth herein must be paid and will be collected through an approved process for collection.

In the event a permit applicant wishes to appeal the collection of a review fee, a written request must be made to the Department Director within 30 days of receipt of the notice that a review fee must be paid. The Director may, at his or her discretion, authorize a waiver of the review fees when the applicant demonstrates good cause for the waiver of such fees. Good cause as stated herein shall be defined as an economic or other undue hardship caused by circumstances beyond the applicant's control or other unforeseen circumstances. Denial of any request for waiver of the plan review fees may be appealed to the Board of County Commissioners within thirty (30) days of such denial.

Collection of Fees and Charges. All fees and charges shall be collected by Brevard County, and shall be received in full prior to the provision of such services and permit application reviews. Upon payment for such services, a receipt shall be issued to the payer, a copy of which shall be retained by the payee. Fees are non-refundable unless specifically approved for a refund or waived by the Board of County Commissioners. Five percent (5%) of the original fee to be refunded shall be retained by the County to offset the cost of processing the refund. No refund will be granted for any development application that has been processed for review by any of the other review agencies. After construction has commenced on site, no refund of any inspection fees will be made.
